Circus fever time again

The annual Ainal Shrine circus parade will come to Granite City Tuesday night, followed by circus performance on three nights at the Tri-City Speedway grounds.

More than 60 marching units including Shrine motorized groups, floats, bands and drum and bugle corps will make up the parade lineup which has been planned as the "biggest parade ever" to march in Granite City.

The parade will start at 25th Street and Madison Avenue and, as customary, will proceed out Madison Avenue to Nameoki Road and down Nameoki where it will disband at the shopping center. Thousands of persons traditionally view the parade.

Orville Hommert will serve as parade marshal this year and he has promised some outstanding floats in the lineup. Bill Piper is assistant parade marshal, Kelly Hogan is chairman with Sam Campbell as his assistant.

Massive Shrine parade Tuesday

The parade will start with four automobile units that will include the provost car at the head of the parade, Chief of Police Ronald Veizer will occupy the second car, Hommert will be in the third and Mayor Paul Schulz will be in the fourth car.

The Ainal color guard, the Ainal brass band and the Ainal patrol will be immediately behind Schulz's car, followed by the Ainal Temple potentate.

In the earlier sections of the parade will be the North High School band, the Ainal Temple drum and bugle car and the O'Fallon High School band.

Floats have been entered in the line of march by the directors staff of Ainal, Cub Scout Pack 46, the Granite City Service Club, Madison Junior Service Club, Madison Lions Club, and the Salvation Army.

The circus performances will begin at the speedway 7:30 p.m. on June 10, 11 and 12 and will be presented, as it has in the past, by George Hubler International Circus, featuring some of the top acts in the circus world.

Admission will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. There will be no reserved seats.

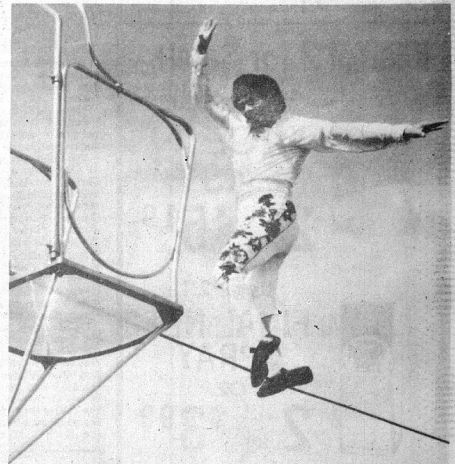

The Shrine circus program will include performances by George Berrada's eight full-grown African lions which opens the circus schedule.

An act by the Marianne trio high in the sky will follow the animal act.

The Shrine parade was held in Belleville Friday followed by the circus Saturday and Sunday and by another showing scheduled tonight.

The parade and circus will go from Granite City to DuQuoin where showings are scheduled June 13 and 14.

The Granite City council has cancelled a special meeting it was planning for Tuesday night because of the parade activity.

THE GREAT JOSELITO performs his high wire wizardry in one of the Ainal Shrine circus acts that will be presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Tri-City Speedway grounds. Joselito is of Colombia, South America, and a member of George Hubler's International Circus. The annual parade preceding the circus will be held Tuesday night in Granite City.

Study broader GC business licenses

A fairer system of business licenses which requires more businesses to obtain city licenses than the old ordinance was studied in depth by the Granite City Council during a special meeting Thursday night.

Numerous businesses which were not required to purchase a business license under the existing ordinance will have to under the new ordinance, the aldermen were told.

Examples of businesses which did not need a business license in the past are banks and lending institutions, bakeries, veterinary hospitals, and brokers, caterers, paint stores, confectioneries, delicatessens and con-operated cleaning establishments.

Also, exterminators, grocery stores, fruit and vegetable stands, hospitals, junk dealers and peddlers, lumber yards, nursing homes, restaurants, fuel oil dealers, clothing stores, auto establishments, jewelry stores, curio establishments, decorating businesses, department and drug stores, appliance and furniture stores, coin-operated car washes, photo stores, construction companies, printing establishments and delivery services.

Ten aldermen were present for the special meeting. Absent were Aldermen Paul Ray Bowler, Margaret Nonn, Jake Vardian and Steven Salitch, City Attorney John Papa discussed the proposed business license ordinance in detail, including the price for each license.

Most businesses would be required to pay a $25 or $50 fee for a license, but some larger businesses would have to pay larger license fees, according to their size or number of employees, Papa explained. "activities given or sponsored solely for the benefit of and under the supervision of a religious, educational or charitable organization," including the school district and park district, would not be required to obtain a business license.

Group says valuations were changed secretly

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A major target of the Eastern Madison County Organizing Committee, longtime critic of this county's property assessing, is the relative secrecy that it believes prevailed during much of the 1970s.

"We can understand why some proposed assessments were reduced by issuing certificates of error, in response to complaints filed too late—after the 30-day period allowed for assessment objections by property owners," Alan Libbra of the Organizing group told the Press-Record.

"But for this to go on year after year, in some instances for seven years, indicates a preference for use of certificates. Until a recent law change, assessment reductions through certificates were not published and were not recorded in the assessment books," Libbra contended.

"Assuming that certificates enabled the Board of Review to correct injustices, this logic would apply to the first year but not to a series of years for the same property owner."

"After the first year, the owner would be aware of the problem in advance and could then have utilized the 30-day objection period in each subsequent year."

"Also, the Board of Review and the assessment supervisor's office had full authority to change the township assessor's black ink valuations with green ink, during each year prior to the publication of the assessment list."

"But those changes would have become a matter of record and would have been published," Libbra said.

Libbra said his point is that some taxpayers' available public records continually showed them paying on the basis of a bigger assessment than was actually assessed.

Another point he is making in criticizing past county assessment practices is that not all of the property owners complaining late were individuals who were unfamiliar with taxation procedures and assessment timing.

"Some big taxpayers have batteries of lawyers and tax experts. It is hard to believe they were so unacquainted with knowledge about when to object, that they had to resort to requests for certificates of error over a period of many years in succession," Libbra commented.

The Organizing Committee and Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber have called for the firing

Low funding plagues higher education

Higher education continues to be plagued by lower funding, it was related at last week's meeting of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, held at Belleville Area College.

IBHE Executive Director Richard Wagner warned the board "there could be another major round of budget reductions for higher education in the General Assembly."

He noted that Governor James R. Thompson said he will cut $200 million from education if legislators pass two tax exemptions over his objections.

IBHE Chairman William Browder of Lincolnshire commented, "Budget reductions are not the answer. The way to go is to increase state income." He conceded that neither voters nor lawmakers seem prepared for a tax increase to boost revenue.

Larry Matejka, executive director of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, added his view of the statewide monetary squeeze.

He said students throughout Illinois were being notified last week of a $2,000,000 shortfall in funding for state scholarships for the 1980-81 school year just completed.

About 30,000 students will be required to make up the difference between state scholarship awards announced last year and the actual amount the state will be able to pay, Matejka said.

In another discussion of state scholarships, IBHE members expressed concern over the General Assembly's decision to increase funding for academic achievement while reducing money for needy students.

Lawmakers increased merit scholarships by $2 million, Wagner said.

Martin Abegg, president of Bradley University and spokesman for the IBHE Nonpublic Advisory Committee, voiced the same fear: "Taking away from needy students to fund academic scholarships worries me."

A report on reviews of programs at state universities during 1979-80 was received and filed. It recommended that two Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville degrees be eliminated because they do not appear to be educationally and economically justified.

They are the doctor of education in instructional process, and the master of arts in philosophy.

The report said the doctoral instruction should be discontinued due to low retention and graduation rates, lack of focus, and the cost relative to other programs offered by SIUE.

Dr. Kenneth Shaw, SIUE chancellor, urged continuation, saying it is the only doctoral program offered at the local campus. "We feel the instructional process program is progressing well," he told the IBHE.

'Head shop' law still enforceable

Granite City may continue to enforce its ordinance regulating "head shops" which sell drug paraphernalia, Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick ruled Thursday.

Judge Rarick refused a request for a temporary injunction to prohibit the city from enforcing its ordinance, ruling that the petitioners, the International Merchandising and Printing Corp. of St. Louis, had failed to show "immediate and irreparable injury, loss or damage" from the ordinance.

The corporation operates Headquarters Boutique IV, 3675 Nameoki Road, and contends its business has been cut in half since the city approved an ordinance regulating the sale of many types of paraphernalia and requiring purchasers to register their names, addresses and items purchases on a log which must be kept available for police inspection.

Judge Rarick said his refusal to grant a preliminary injunction does not reflect on the constitutionality or unconstitutionality of the city's ordinance. He said a hearing on the constitutionality will be held, "probably in several months."

Passage of the city's "head shop" ordinance in May, 1980, resulted in the immediate closing of several shops selling roach clips, water pipes, "bongs" and other items used primarily for smoking marijuana.

Another store agreed to voluntarily remove such items from its inventory.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said he introduced the model ordinance to the city attorney after the

Taxi fares rise in GC

Starting in about a week, the fares to ride a taxicab in Granite City are expected to increase as the result of action taken by the Granite City Council.

The council, which by ordinance has control over taxicab fares and the condition of cabs in the city, agreed to allow taxicabs to charge 25 cents more per zone for one passenger and an additional dime per zone for a second passenger.

The increases were recommended by Alderman Everett Morien, chairman of the council's traffic committee, after a discussion with representatives of Checker Cab Co., who had requested the fare hikes.

Mayor Paul Schulz commented, "It has been two years or more since they have gotten a raise. I don't think that is an unreasonable request."

The council agreed to ask City Attorney John Papa to bring an ordinance to the next meeting amending the taxicab ordinance and increasing the fares.

Parvuli Dei Award to Pack 13 Cubs

Fourteen Cub Scouts of Pack 13 at St. Elizabeth Church were awarded the Parvuli Dei Award at the 9 a.m. mass on Sunday, May 31, by Father Henry Schmidt, pastor.

The Parvuli Dei (little children of God) emblem is a recognition that the Catholic Church gives to the Cub Scouts and Webelos.

The Cubs worked on specific requirements for six weeks under the direction of Mrs. Janet Neidhardt, den leader.

Mrs. Marsha Chomko directed and taught the religious portion of the requirements.

The Cubs were given a tour of Our Lady of the Snows Shrine in Belleville, Ill., accompanied by den leaders, Mrs. Janet Neidhardt, Mrs. Candy Thompson, Mrs. JoAnn Yurko and Mrs. Marsha Chomko.

Another requirement was a visit to a sick or shut-in person. The Cubs crafted a lovely matchstick cross and gave the cross as a gift to the person they visited.

On Saturday, May 16, 11 of the Cubs participated in a special mass at 5:30 p.m. Stephen Friedel, Ben Heintz, and Joe Yurko did the readings and the remainder of the Cubs participated in the Offertory procession carrying such things as the Parish Directory representing the parish and a Cub scout cap representing the Cub Scout Pack. A banner fashioned in royal blue with each Cub's name surrounding the outer edge in gold with the Parvuli Dei Candle as the center was hand-made by Mrs. Neidhardt. This banner was displayed below the altar.

All Cubs had to appear before a review board. Members of this board were: Mrs. Marsha Chomko, Ron Luebber, Mrs. Janet Neidhardt, Mrs. Candy Thompson, Mark Yehling and Mrs. JoAnn Yurko.

At the beginning of the mass on May 31, all of the candidate Cub Scouts walked in procession carrying lighted candles with the pastor, Father Henry Schmidt. All parishioners joined in singing, "We are the Light of the World."

The award medals were presented by Father Schmidt during the mass.

Music for the mass was provided by members of St. Elizabeth guitar group, Kathy and Mary Turck, Mary Koepfer and Georgie Serun.

A special Parvuli Dei Candle burned during the duration of the mass and, also, during the religious portions of the weekly meetings.

Cubs receiving the award were: Eric Achenbach, Brian Bjorkman, Carl Chomko, Stephen Friedel, Ben Heintz, Bryan Neidhardt, Michael Patterson, Richard Schaus, Joe Thomas, Jeff Thompson, Jerry Thompson, Stephen Uram, Joe Yurko and Erik Wolf.

Following the mass, the Cubs presented Mrs. Neidhardt with a gift in appreciation for her work and direction.

Perennial crops ahead of schedule

By Chris Dall

Extension Garden Advisor

Most of the usual happenings for June will occur this year. Most perennial crops are ahead of schedule by five to seven days. By watching the calendar and the weather, gardeners can adjust planting and cultural operations for improved growth and yields. The following items are some to consider:

- 1.) Strawberry harvest is in full swing and it's time to taste for the best variety. Note that big husky plants yield the most big berries.
- 2.) Many fruit trees are heavily infested with aphids or plant lice. Usually, they congregate on the terminals and suck the sap from young leaves. They can cause stunting of new growth and also give off honeydew which is messy and attracts ants.

Natural predators will frequently catch up with control aphids, but sprays of malathion or diazinon will also reduce populations if applied at the right time and often enough.

3.) Plant pumpkins around the 10th to the 15th of June for Halloween. They take about 110 to 120 days to mature so they'll be ready by late October.

4.) Spray fruit trees that have a crop of fruit. Use an all-purpose fruit tree spray mix or use your own approved mix. Non-bearing trees should not need a spray unless insect pests begin feeding upon the foliage. Read and follow the label before spraying maturing fruits.

5.) Quit harvesting asparagus by mid-month. This crop has been using up stored food reserved from the roots and now needs time to replenish itself. After the last cutting, apply 2½ pounds per 100 square feet of 12-12-12 or other complete garden fertilizer to the planting. This will provide plenty of nutrients for growth for next year's crops.

6.) Continue harvesting rhubarb if you wish—providing that the plants are kept fertilized and watered. Rhubarb will continue to grow and produce if the essential ingredients of water and nutrients are present.

7.) Continue planting crops such as sweet corn, green beans, and cucumbers. This will provide extra harvest periods for expired or insect-damaged plantings. Also, start some tomatoes for late season planting if you want vigorous tomato plants in the fall.

8.) Spray the trunks of peach trees and other stone fruit trees with carbaryl (Sevin) for peach borer control by June 5. Use four tablespoons of chemical per gallon and wet the trunk and crotch areas with the solution. Repeat sprays will be needed in early July and early August.

9.) Cultivate sweet potatoes and apply dacthal herbicide immediately thereafter. This treatment will provide weed control until the vines are growing and shading the soil.

10.) Don't let the weeds get ahead of you. Light hoeings or shallow cultivation will prevent weed problems. No weeds should be allowed to make seeds in the vegetable garden area.

11.) Thin apples so they are 7 to 9 inches apart, peaches to 4 to 6 inches apart and plums to 2 to 3 inches apart. Any insect, disease, or frost damaged fruits can be removed in the process. Well-spaced fruits will develop better flavor and color, and won't break down the tree.

12.) Cultivate and hoe new strawberry plantings. After the patch is cleaned up apply dacthal herbicide and water it in. This will give about eight weeks of freedom from most weeds.

the ordinance notes.

He also said that the possibility of some businesses having to purchase more than one license if they sell more than one type of merchandise has been eliminated. Each business must purchase one license, with the stipulation that it be the most expensive license required for the types of merchandise sold.

Some aldermen objected to some of the individual fees, but reached no conclusive decisions. There were also objections that some of the proposed prices would be the same for small stores as large stores, such as grocery stores, which would pay $100 each, regardless of size.

Alderman Sam Whitmer said he is not optimistic that the ordinance would pass the council in its present form and Alderman Paul Flak said he believes the ordinance needs further consideration.

In other business at the special meeting, the aldermen discussed committee reorganizations. They rejected a recommendation of the mayor to combine the city hall and city hall committee into one, preferring to keep both intact.

They also recommended creation of an insurance committee, made up of Aldermen Paul Bowler, Carl Kettel and Mac Wartfield. Mayor Paul Schuler will name the chairman.

Shepherd needed to avoid rabies shots

Quad-City area residents are being asked to watch for a light tan German Shepherd dog of medium size which bit a 3-year-old Madison boy in the 2000 block of McCasland Avenue in Madison May 29.

The boy will have to undergo painful rabies shots, unless the dog is located and found to be free of rabies. Madison Humane Officer Vasil Graville said the boy was walking to the dog when he bit him on McCasland Avenue.

Since the biting, Graville has searched house-to-house on McCasland, Beckwith, Harris and Skene Street to try and find the dog, without success.

He is urging anyone knowing of a dog matching that description which may have been in that area May 29 to contact him at 452-3170 or the Madison police at 876-4300.

Charged in stabbing

One of two young men being sought in connection with a graduation night stabbing near Horseshoe Lake has been taken into custody in Granite City and the other still is being sought.

Gary R. Caughron, 19, of 2405 Iowa St., has been charged with aggravated battery in a felony warrant issued for the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

The charge is in connection with the stabbing in the early morning hours May 30 of Jeffrey Perkins, 20, of 308 Warren Ave. during what sheriff's deputies termed a post-graduation "beer blast" on Horseshoe Lake Road between Lake and the rail crossing behind Spuddy's Tavern, involving between 100 and 200 youths.

Witnesses told police Perkins was attempting to break up a fight about to begin between two of the graduates when two Granite City men not affiliated with the graduates jumped on him and stabbed him.

Perkins suffered a punctured right lung and cuts to his chest, upper right arm and the back of his neck in the assault. He was taken by friends to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he is recuperating from his wounds.

Warrants for the arrest of two Granite City young men were issued after deputies questioned the witnesses and learned of the alleged identities of the two who jumped on Perkins.

Caughron was arrested at 1:10 p.m. Thursday in the 3700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and was turned over to county deputies who took him to Edwardsville. An error in the warrant was found and Caughron was released until a new warrant could be issued, authorities said.

Caughron was re-arrested at 10:30 p.m. Friday in the 2600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and was taken to the county jail at 1:10 a.m. Sunday, where he was held in lieu of $2,502 bond.

Venice to get new cars for police

The troublesome Venice police cars will soon be replaced with new heavy-duty cars, it was disclosed at the Venice City Council meeting last week.

Because the old cars are in constant need of repair, council members have determined that it would be wiser to buy new ones, instead of constantly paying repair bills.

It also was decided to place speed bumps in the alley between Douglas and Calhoun Streets. It was reported that "drag races" are disturbing residents in that area, and the speed bumps will hopefully slow the traffic.

News notes

Nine prospective members of the Granite City Board of Education are expected to be interviewed by the board Tuesday evening prior to selection of one person to fill a board vacancy lasting until this November.

Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber is proposing that the county double its Board of Review membership to six. He suggests utilizing an existing state law by declaring an emergency, which would cite a backup of property assessment reviews. The present workload delays tax collections and press many governmental agencies to borrow operating funds, he adds. There is a lack of potential review board appointees who have passed a qualifying examination; new tests will be given June 30.

Debbie Buer of Granite City has been inducted into the University of Illinois Ambassadors, an honorary tour society comprised of student volunteers from the SIUE campus. The student emissaries devote time to the university to foster good will, welcoming more than 22,000 visitors annually for tours and special events.

Concluding that multi-bank holding company authorization cannot be avoided in this General Assembly session, the Illinois Bankers Association is negotiating to modify some provisions of the pending legislation. President Jack D. Lemmerman reiterated Friday his group's "complete support for the unit banking system. We attempted to defeat the legislation, but found that was not possible," he commented.

Madison County is one of 49 Illinois areas declared as having a labor surplus and eligible in the June 1981 to May 1982 period in preference in obtaining federal contracts.

Illinois traffic fatalities totaled 159 in May, and 695 for the first five months of 1981, an increase of 10 for the January-May period. In State Police District 11, there were 13 traffic deaths in May and 53 for the year, up seven for January-May. In this district, May fatalities numbered six in Madison County, two of them involving motorcycles, and seven in St. Clair County.

Paul Smith, program director of Talbot Hall, St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Chemical Dependency Recovery Unit, will appear in Coffee Break with Gregg McGee on Cable TV Channel 1 at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

of James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments. Barton is a Granite City and former Granite City Township assessor.

A county grand jury last month recommended that Terry Francis, a Glen Carbon Democrat, not be appointed to the three-member Board of Review. An examination of Francis was conducted June 30 at the County Courthouse in an effort to increase the number of persons qualified for appointment to the review board.

The Organizing Committee is displeased with the scope and depth of an investigation of the Madison County assessment program, completed prior to a grand jury report. The investigation was conducted by the Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement.

As a result of its displeasure with the state study, the committee of rural taxpayers is considering sponsoring a new investigation, Libbra said.

Current members of the Board of Review are Fred Finck, Godfrey Republican, and Robert Harris, Granite City Democrat. Both were among the several dozen persons interviewed by the state.

Finck was reappointed to the review board at the May 1981 meeting of the Madison County Board.

He told the DCI on Oct. 29, 1979, that he believes the Board of Review serves three functions:

- "1. Equate the value of property.
- "2. Make sure that each township's assessments are of equal value.
- "3. Make sure that the State of Illinois gives Madison County a fair value in accordance with the entire state.

"Finck stated that the Board has been involved with real estate and property valuation for most of his life, that he was a real estate broker, and felt that he had an excellent background for his position.

"Finck was asked if he was familiar with Chapter 120, Section 536, Illinois Revised Statutes, which related to the issuance of certificates of error. He stated he had read the section a long time ago.

"He was shown a copy of the section for examination, and was further advised that the section takes exception to any certificate of error issued for errors in judgment as to the valuation of any real or personal property.

"He was further advised that during the investigation, the reporting agents had found numerous occasions when property assessments had been reduced and marked 'mistake in computation' and that the reporting agents could not locate any mistake in computation.

"Finck stated he was appointed to the Board of Review in 1978. He stated that for his first year, the Board did not require any supporting data in the valuation of property.

"He stated that if given a certificate of error signed by Barton, he would require any supporting data in the valuation of property, he felt that it was his estimation that the reduction was justified, and would sign the certificate.

"He stated that this year (1979), they were requiring back-up documentation to any certificate of error issued.

"Finck stated there are many occasions when the township assessor has a property over-assessed, and the board must reduce the assessment to a more proper amount.

"Asked how he would determine if a property was over-assessed, he stated that normally it would be up to Barton or to the taxpayer to give the reasons why the property was over-assessed. "Finck was asked if he normally made a practice of physically examining properties they were going to reduce; he stated that he did not, he relied on information furnished by Barton or his staff.

"Asked if he contacted the township assessors for their opinion on any reduction, he stated he did not. "He felt the function of the assessors was to assess property, and it was the board's function to increase or decrease the assessments as they saw fit.

He stated he felt that most of the assessors did not have an adequate background in property assessment and, therefore, made mistakes in their valuations. And it was the Board of Review's job to correct those mistakes. In his opinion, there was very little need for local township assessors, except that they were required by law.

"Finck was asked if copies of certificates of error, after being issued by the Board of Review, were ever furnished to the township assessors so they would know the Board of Review had reduced the assessment on a piece of property.

He stated they were not. He felt that was not the business of the Board of Review made a decision to reduce the value of the property.

"Advised that he had signed certificates of error for the 1977 tax year on properties owned by (list of 15 owners), Finck was asked if he could recall any of the aforementioned property owners. He could not.

"He stated that if he signed certificates of error for these persons, the certificates would have been issued by Barton, and he felt that they were justified."

Harris, interviewed Oct. 30, 1979, became a Board of Review member in June 1979 and has a current two-year term extends to 1982. He has been a real estate broker since 1962.

The DCI said, "Harris felt his job was to be able to oversee and to help equalize the assessments in each township and in the entire county so that each taxpayer would pay his fair share of taxes."

"After becoming a member of the Board of Review, he attended seminars in Springfield, where they taught new members how to handle their duties. Since then, he attended some of the seminars to learn the same type of knowledge.

"Asked if he had knowledge of the statute section which explains use of certificates of error, Harris stated that when he first became a member, he had no knowledge of it.

"Subsequently, he researched the section. As a member of the Board of Review, he took exception to the portion of the statute which gave an exception to the use of a certificate when a judgment in valuation is concerned.

"Harris stated that, through all his research, he has still not been able to come up with an adequate definition of what an error in valuation concerns.

"He stated that, therefore, he feels that the portion of the statute should be stricken.

"When he was first appointed, he relied on the judgment of other Board of Review members, the supervisor of assessments and his staff when a certificate was presented to the Board of Review.

"At that time, he felt he could sign a certificate basically without question or qualification.

"He stated that, as time went on, he began to question certificates of error that were presented. At the present time, the Board of Review is requiring back-up documentation to be included with a certificate before it will sign the certificate.

"During his first year, being new to his position, he felt that Barton would only present a valid certificate, when an error had been committed in the assessment of property.

"He believes the certificate was a useful tool for the assessors to use the tax records for an equalized basis in townships. He stated there are many occasions when errors are made, either by the assessor or by the supervisor of assessments, and the only way they can be corrected is by the certificate of error.

"Examples were times when the homestead exemption was not given to a taxpayer who was over 65; where a piece of property had been destroyed and yet was assessed; and many other occasions that were brought before the Board of Review for determination.

"Harris further stated that, initially, he was not sure if copies of certificates were published in newspapers nor furnished to the township assessors after the Board of Review had reduced an assessment.

"He felt that township assessors should be fully aware of the assessment on a piece of property reduced by the Board of Review. A good idea would be for the assessor to send a copy of the certificate, so he could see that the Board of Review had in fact changed the assessment.

"Harris felt there were some problems with some of the assessors in small townships where funds were lacking for the assessor to properly assess the township.

"But in many circumstances, he felt that a much closer relationship should be developed between the supervisor of assessments, the assessors and the Board of Review.

"He stated that at present the Board of Review has problems in getting some of the township assessors to even attend the appeal hearings, which he feels they should attend because of their knowledge of the properties in their townships."

A list of 17 properties was discussed with Harris, whose signature appeared on their 1977 tax year certificates of error.

Harris told the DCI that "when he signed certificates for the 1977 tax year, he was relying on Barton and his staff as to the validity."

"There were some circumstances that he felt he had been taken advantage of."

"Specifically, a woman now deceased provided photographs to him of subsidence damage to her home, and he obtained a certificate. He later found out that the property had been reduced for previous years, and that the information furnished to him was in error and misleading, and that the property was not damaged to the extent as provided.

"In many instances, Harris was provided what he felt were legitimate reasons why he would have felt proper in reducing the assessment on properties.

"In other instances, Harris said as facts were being given to him by the reporting agents, he did not understand why he had signed the certificates of error—other than his faith in Barton, Barton's staff or other members of the Board of Review."

School Board hires principal at Harris

David Becherer was appointed as the new principal of Harris School by the Madison School Board in a meeting Thursday night. Becherer, who is a teacher at Harris, and will serve as principal next year, provide he is certified.

Becherer and members also decided to rehire four teachers.

Judy Smucker was reappointed as the early childhood development teacher. Roberta Dallas, Mike Garland and Christine Jonhase were also hired again, as they have the most seniority.

Dolores Folkert was chosen to serve as director of curriculum. Board members decided to advertise for the clerical position at the Louis Baer School. Anyone interested in the position may notify the board by 4 p.m. Tuesday.

It also was announced that students from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be assigned to assist teachers at the elementary schools. This has been the procedure in the past, and allows the students to obtain clinical experience.

Five parents who attended the desegregation hearings last week were at the board meeting, hoping to discuss the integration issue. Board members declined discussion, as they felt more time was needed to digest the information from the meetings.

Evelyn Mason, one of the parents present, said that her comments quoted last week may have been misunderstood. She is not a Harris mother, but has a daughter in Blair school. She also stated that she is in favor of busing, contrary to the previous article.

The board also decided that John Palchett, superintendent of schools, will attend the Fourth Annual Superintendent's Conference in September.

Paul Bargiel also will attend an election workshop for U.S. Court of Appeals ruled it constitutional elsewhere in the state and the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear an appeal.

Shelton said that the ordinance does not prohibit the sale of drug paraphernalia, but only requires that the purchaser register when buying items. Veltzer said.

Robert Thum, a manager of the Granite City store, said Friday that he had not heard about the judge's ruling and that he is disappointed with the decision to allow the city to continue enforcing the ordinance.

"We have tried this case in other cities and it was shot down by the courts before it ever got to this point," he said.

Thum at first called the ruling "a temporary setback," but later said the ordinance "has definitely harmed our business, to the point where we may be out of business by the time there is another court hearing."

He said that during the April 14 hearing which led to Thursday's ruling, the owner was asked to produce financial documents and logs showing that the business had been harmed. Since the owner did not know that such records would be requested, he did not have them ready or with him, Thum said.

Thum said that passage of the ordinance not only greatly reduced the sales of items the city considers paraphernalia, but sales of tee shirts, water beds and other items dropped when the ordinance went into effect.

Postpone hearing on occupancy code

A public hearing on a proposed housing code for Granite City, which was scheduled for tomorrow evening, has been postponed due to the conflict with the Shrine Circus parade.

Paul Kirk, chairman of the city's ordinance committee, first called the meeting for

Tuesday evening in city hall, but Thursday, he discovered that the parade will be that night and postponed the hearing.

He said a new date for the hearing will be set in the near future, if the council wishes.

master's program was recommended because of declines in enrollment and graduates, and because it is the fourth most expensive program offered by SIUE. It costs $211.49 per credit hour, compared to an average cost of $130.50 per credit hour for such programs at other Illinois institutions.

Wagner said procedures for similar reviews of community college programs are being formulated. He said he hopes they will be in use by next year.

"The IBHE approved a report reiterating its position that responsibility for providing remedial classes should rest with Illinois community colleges, not with the four-year state universities.

Placing remedial programs in the two-year colleges is seen as a step toward increasing the attention given such programs by elementary and secondary schools, the report said.

IBHE Member James Unland of Pekin assailed increases in remedial services by Illinois universities, and criticized state institutions for granting graduation credit for such courses.

"This report is a sad commentary," he said in quoting figures showing an increase in the number of students.

"It certainly doesn't speak very highly for the ungodly amount of money we are spending on education in this state."

Unland suggested that high schools begin to shoulder part of the cost of remedial courses.

IBHE Member Diego Redondo of Deerfield disagreed, stressing the need for colleges and universities to continue providing remedial courses: "We should not cast these people aside. We should allow a certain amount of leeway while these people catch up."

The higher education board is in the third year of a five-year period set up to give state institutions time to shift the bulk of remedial education to community colleges.

A reference to the host college in the remedial education discussion showed that the BAC basic education budget is $212,900, or two percent of its total education fund budget.

IBHE Chairman Browder announced the appointment of David Pallus of Chicago to replace Merle Yontz of Peoria on the higher education board. Pallus is director of communications for FMC Corporation of Chicago. He will serve a six-year term on the IBHE. Yontz is retiring after 12 years on the board.

Browder has been reappointed to serve a second six-year term, and will continue as chairman.

In opening remarks to the IBHE, Dr. Bruce Wissore, acting BAC president, praised the Belleville Area College board of trustees for taking "tough, sometimes unpopular" actions to reverse threatening budget trends.

He said savings implemented by the board during the past year did not cut services to students.

BAC enrollment rose 17 percent and the mean grade-point average increased from 2.84 to 2.9, Dr. Wissore said.

Former BAC President H. J. Haberaecker of Belleville was inducted as a trustee. "You might call him Mr. Higher Education in these parts," Browder remarked.

but buzzed a buzzer near the door and was admitted inside. He alleged seeing a fishbowl of money and betting slips and several cigar boxes of money and tabs at the back of the bar.

Pomeroy said Phillips approached and asked if Pomeroy was a member of a guest. Pomeroy said he was not and Phillips asked him to leave, according to official reports. Pomeroy then showed his police identification.

Lytle Temple, one of the board of trustees then talked to Pomeroy and allowed him to look around. Pomeroy alleged the bartender was seen putting the fish bowl and cigar boxes from behind the bar into cabinets under the back bar.

As Pomeroy was checking a hallway beside the bar, a woman left a room and Pomeroy saw what he believed was a slot machine covered with a brown trash bag. He asked to be allowed into the locked room and allegedly discovered four slot machines, two covered with trash bags and one turned around facing the wall. The other was turned toward the center of the room and there were empty coin rolls on the counter. Pomeroy alleged.

He ordered the bar closed for the night and called for assistance in securing the building. Phillips and Temple took into custody the police used a pickup truck to remove the slot machines and betting tabs from the building for evidence.

Mayor John Schuler, the city's liquor license commissioner, was out of town for the weekend, so Chief of Police Ronald J. Zeiter allowed the bar to be reopened Tuesday and Sunday, until city officials can contact Schuler.

Homeowners can help eliminate mosquitoes

If the weather and Quad-City area residents cooperate, the breeding of mosquitoes this summer can be greatly slowed, according to Granite City's city inspector Emerald Daves.

Mosquitoes are not only a summer nuisance, but they present potential health hazards as transmitters of encephalitis, malaria and yellow fever to humans and heartworm to pets.

Daves noted that the windy and wet weather experienced lately has made it impossible for the city to do extensive spraying for mosquitoes, but spraying will be done when the weather permits.

He is asking local residents to check their yards for anything which holds standing water and will allow mosquitoes to breed. Examples include old tires, tin cans, bottles, drums and toddler swimming pools.

Leaky outdoor pipes and faucets should be repaired to avoid wet areas and the water in vases, bird baths and pet water dishes should be changed frequently, so mosquitoes cannot breed there.

Mosquitoes need water for their early life stages, Daves noted, saying some mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water, where they hatch in a day or two. Others lay their eggs in old tires, tin cans or other water-holding containers and the eggs may remain for weeks or months until they are covered with water, then they hatch, he explained.

Wrigglers or larvae grow quickly into tumblers or pupae and soon the skin splits open and out climbs another adult mosquito, he noted.

Homeowners also can spray for mosquitoes on their property. Roosting areas should be sprayed with Malathion, following the label directions. Areas where mosquitoes rest during the heat of the day, including the cool leafy shade of shrubs, bushes, vines, flowers and patches of tall grass and weeds also should be sprayed.

Sheltered surfaces of the home, such as roof eaves, breezeways, garages and ceilings as well as the screens of porches also may be sprayed to reduce mosquitoes.

Before parties, sprays of 1 percent pyrethrin or 5 to 10 percent dichlorvos (DVP or Vapona) may be lightly sprayed between tables and chairs. All three insecticides are approved by the Environmental Protection Agency, Daves noted.

"Eliminating potential breeding grounds around your home and spraying where the adult mosquitoes hide will certainly help reduce the mosquito menace around your property. This will result in increasing your enjoyment of summer living outdoors," he concluded.

Deny expenses to convention

On June 23, the results of a pulmonary function study done on high school students in Granite City will be released nationwide during a Philadelphia conference and the city will not have a representative present "as a watchdog to protect us."

The Granite City Council has voted 6 to 8 to deny $800 expenses to Paula Case, head of the city's air pollution control department, to attend the national Air Pollution Control Association convention in Philadelphia June 21 to 26.

The vote followed a lengthy debate over the merits of conventions and their cost. Opposition to Mrs. Case attending the convention was spearheaded by Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, who stated, "I think our people should stay in Granite City and do the work. Our people are going all over the country and even into Canada on the taxpayers' money and I think that is wrong."

"I understand the mayor has sent letters to the department heads of all departments saying, 'No spending, unless necessary.' I am told the city might have to borrow money to operate until taxes on real estate comes in. I don't know for this lady to go to Philadelphia when we can get the information from SIU (Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville) or the schools," Whitmer concluded.

Mrs. Case said that at the conference, the results of the SIUE study will be released nationwide and she contended it would be to the city's benefit to have a representative present.

A letter was read from R. William Rotter, chairman of the city's Air Pollution Control Board, which stated, "The board feels it is essential that Paula Case attend the meeting representing Granite City in the event that questions are raised regarding the results of the study."

"The report stresses that Granite City is one of the major pollution centers in the country and that respiratory problems in the city are twice the national average. A full report on the study will be given by Paula Case after the meeting, summarizing the results and recommending appropriate solutions," according to the letter.

It was explained that the conference is eligible for 49 percent federal matching funds, so the city would have to pay 51 percent. The air board recommended that Mrs. Case be given $600 expenses plus approximately $200 for air fare. The federal government would pay about $400 and the city would pay a like amount.

Alderman Carl Kittel of the Third

Ward supported the expenditure, saying, "SIU does not hold anything west of the bluffs in high esteem, unless it is under water. We need someone from Granite City (at the conference) as a watchdog to protect us."

Alderman Paul Fisk of the Third Ward asked if $400 is available in the city budget and Mayor Paul Schuler assured him the money could be found. When the vote was taken on the motion to approve the funds for the conference, the eight aldermen who voted no were Whitmer, Fisk, Warren Decatur, Margaret Norn, Paul Ray Bowler, Mac Warfield, Mike Modrusic and Steven Saltich.

Mrs. Case was contacted Friday and said she still intends to attend the conference, if the money can be obtained.

"This is the most informative and up-to-date thing in my field. From 5,000 to 10,000 experts from all over the world attend each year and exchange information on the latest state of the art technology."

"It is one place where you can solve most of your problems. I believe it is essential to my professional development and I intend to go, if at all possible," she added.

She said she will not appeal again to the city for funds to attend the convention, but will attempt to find another source of funding.

Roof work at 4 schools

The Granite City School Board on Tuesday authorized roofing work at four school buildings at a total cost of $136,648.

The work will be done on roof sections where leaking has become a major problem.

Stebel Brothers will improve 124 roofing squares at Logan School for $23,125.

A $113,523 contract with Whitehead Roofing calls for work on 429 squares at Granite City High School North, $76,985, plus .135 squares at Marshall School, $21,450, and 110 squares at Frohardt School, $15,088.

The two low bidders specified use of Deriburg, the type of roof installed successfully in 1980 on Lake School, and after April 1981 storm damage at Mitchell School.

Single-ply roofing will be utilized. Maintenance Supervisor Ronald Landman said the board has been a problem with four-ply built-up roofing at North, with the roof surface splitting near the eaves and air-conditioning units.

Asked about priorities and funds, Landman told the board that the roofing work, but these projects are critical.

Arrest in stabbing

Granite City police charged Edward Lewis Gaffney, 31, of YMCA Room 215 with aggravated battery in the stabbing of Wilson Mitchell, YMCA Room 232, at 10:20 p.m. Thursday in a washroom on the second floor of the "Y" building.

Trying to defend himself, Mitchell was slashed on the left hand. As the two men scuffled on the floor, he was stabbed in the right side of his abdomen.

Authorities were notified by other residents, and Mitchell was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Officers located in the washroom a hunting knife with a 4½-inch-long blade. Mitchell had been talking with another man in a hallway, and it was alleged that Gaffney had shouted to them to quiet down. The knife followed an exchange of words.

A burglar took a $100 vacuum sweeper from the apartment of Edith Cardin at 2260 State St., she told authorities Thursday.

City cleanup underway

Many Granite City homeowners already have found a card from the city on their doors informing them of the approximate date that the city will have trucks at their homes to pick up heavy items in the summer cleanup drive. Other cards are being distributed daily.

The cleanup effort, conducted in conjunction with the mayor's student summer employment program, began June 3 and will conclude all areas of the city have been covered once. Old furniture, tires, gutters, wood and other items too large or bulky for the regular trash service to take will be accepted if residents will stack the items next to the curb on pickup day. Caution should be taken to avoid items falling into the street, where they would pose a danger to traffic.

The city's sanitation department is reminding residents that hazardous materials will not be taken, including chemicals and paint. Brush will be removed by the street department.

Additional information of the scheduled pickup is available by calling 452-8220.

Fire damages Sports Tap

Fire caused extensive damage inside the Sports Tap Tavern, 916 Niedringhaus Ave., early Sunday, causing thousands of dollars worth of damage. A passer-by noticed flames in the building at 4:15 a.m. Sunday and notified a policeman, who then called the Granite City Fire Department to have key.

The officer found all doors and windows to the building closed. Firemen broke two windows to gain entry and fight the fire, which was believed to have started in a storage room at the south end of the building.

Flames were limited to the rear half of the tavern, but the remainder of the building sustained smoke damage. Firemen were on the scene until 6:10 a.m. Sunday.

The cause of the fire is under investigation as fire investigators said it appeared the flames started in three separate areas of the storage room.

Larry Wofford, Sports Tap co-owner, said he secured the building at 3:10 a.m. and saw nothing unusual then. After the fire, a key to the front door was found laying in the parking lot near the entrance. Wofford supplied police with a list of persons supposed to have keys.

Cleanup efforts began later Sunday, but the tavern is not expected to reopen until extensive repairs have been made. The fire is the second recently at the Sports Tap.

Gardner is a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School South.

He will now be assigned to Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, as a behavioral scientist.

8 more teachers rehired; 3 get exploratory leaves

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Eight honorably dismissed teachers were hired back for the 1981-82 year at the last Granite City Board of Education meeting. This increased to nine the number being retained despite dismissal notices.

As attrition occurs due to retirements and other factors, and as probable staffing needs become definite, positions are filled wherever possible from the ranks of honorably dismissed faculty members. More are expected to be rehired.

Dismissal decisions relate to length of service in the school district, and are necessitated by financial limitations and enrollment trends.

A new element Tuesday night was the granting of year-long exploratory leaves, requested by Gary Presley, a psychologist with Quad-City Special Education Region I, Emalee J. Fears, a learning disability teacher at GCHS South, and Diane Nelson, an English teacher at South.

The three plan to work in private practice, at a day care center, and in administration of automatic laundries, respectively.

Exploratory leaves, pioneered by the Granite City district, permit time off to explore potential career changes. Savings to the district result from the hiring of replacements, usually with less teaching experience and receiving lower pay.

The leaves of absence also help reduce the number of teachers who must be dismissed without later retention.

Rehired for the next school year were Cheryl Compton to teach vocal music at Coolidge Junior High School, Betty Hicks to teach developmental mathematics at South High, Lynn Jacobsen to conduct the learning center at Maryville School, Peggy Lee Tucker as a middle intermediate instructor at Logan, Lawrence Curry as an upper intermediate teacher at Frohardt, Katherine Clay as a lower primary teacher at Marshall, Elaine Parish as a teacher of behavioral disorder pupils at Parkview, and Margaret Lyons as a resource teacher at Frohardt.

As the policy-setting body for the administrative district of Madison County Special Education District Region One (Quad-City area), the Granite City school board ratified:

—Election of Jack Tolliver of Venice as chairman, Richard Zeisset of Madison as vice-chairman and Donald Stucke of Granite City as secretary of the six-member special education board.

—Continued service by Granite City as the administrative district.

—A second Wednesday meeting schedule, including 7 p.m. June 10.

Fuel Class at the annual Gateway Nationals at St. Louis International Raceway near Madison.

'Big Daddy' breaks barrier

Special to the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — In the finals here Sunday of the Gateway Nationals, Don "Big Daddy" Garlits came through with a clutch performance against Shirley "Cha Cha" Muldowney. And he made good on a promise in the process.

He said he'd do it. And he did it. Don "Big Daddy" Garlits, the "king of drag racers," told reporters at a press luncheon last week that he would break the mythical six-second barrier at the annual Gateway Nationals at St. Louis International Raceway. Competing in the Top Fuel Eliminator Division at the Nationals, Garlits made good on his promise here Sunday. Barely.

Garlits broke the six-second barrier, with a clocking of 5.985 seconds. Elapsed Time on the one-fourth mile drag strip. It was good enough to give Garlits the first place trophy in the Top Fuel Classification. His speed in the event was a blazing fast 237.47 miles per hour.

Muldowney finished in second place in the Top Fuels, behind Garlits. Her best time was 6.236 E.T. Her fastest speed was 203.17 miles per hour. It wasn't good enough to beat out Garlits in the finals.

The Gateway Nationals victory by Garlits was his sixth in the 11-year history of the event, which is one of the "jewels" of drag racing's crown.

In the popular Funny Car

Division, Don "The Snake" Prudhomme was edged out of first place by Tom Hoveland of Mason City, Iowa. His fastest speed in the finals Sunday was 214.80 miles per hour. His best time of the day was a clocking of 6.47 seconds. Prudhomme finished second.

Another barrier fell in the running of the Pro Stock Classification. He turned in the first sub-eight second run in American Hot Rod Association (AHRA) history. The run, which of course set a St. Louis International Raceway record, was clocked in a time of 7.93 seconds. His speed was 172 miles per hour. Johnson, who won his division, is from Nacross, Ga.

The Pro Comp-F Division finals were won by Belleville's Howard Poepp.

Top Competition Division finals were won by Howard Graves of Collins, Mo. who turned in an E.T. of 8.99 seconds and a top speed of 144 miles per hour on the quarter-mile.

Larry Runnels of Arnold, Mo. won the Stock Class finals.

Jones does overhaul job on T-C racers

Rob Jones of Creve Coeur, Mo., overhauled Mike Cooksey of Centuria, Ill., on lap 8 and won his first 20-lap limited late model feature of the year Saturday night at the Tri-City Speedway.

Only eight stock cars finished the wild feature as a first lap crash of seven cars were put out. On the restart another crash of four cars were forced out of the race as Jack Booth of Springfield, Ill., spun in turn two as three cars hit him.

On the restart, Dick Crane of Hannibal, Mo., took the lead from the pole position and led until lap four when Mike Cooksey passed Crane.

Then Jones took the lead away from Cooksey and led the rest of the way at the finish.

Following Jones at the finish were Cooksey, Crane, Terry Gallaher of Hannibal, Mo., Mike Null of St. Louis, Hershel Odell of Springfield, Ill., and Bob Adams of St. Peters, Mo.

Jack Booth won the first heat over Mike Cooksey.

Cecil Lyons of Virginia, Ill., and Wes Odell of Springfield, Mo., won the second heat over Dick Crane, Hershel Odell and Gene Jones of Creve Coeur, Mo.

A total of 24 limited late models were on hand.

In the MRA (Midwest Racing Association) sprint cars, Jack Ziegler of Marshall, Ill., passed David Williams of Marion, Ill., on lap four and won his second sprint car feature of the year with the wings.

Ziegler was followed by Tony Weyant of Springfield, Ill., David Williams, Jerry Russell of Springfield, Jimmy Moughan Jr., of Springfield, Pat McKeehan of Windsor, Mo., Scott Ritchhart of Lincoln, Ill., and Randy Stradridge of Springfield.

David Williams won the first heat over Danny Frye Jr., of St. Louis, Tony Weyant, and Mike Therman.

Maberry of Springfield won the second heat over Pat McKeehan, Manny Rockhold, of Joliet, Ill., and Randy Stradridge. Jack Ziegler won the third heat over Randy Bateman of Murrphysboro, Ill., Jerry Russell and Tom Custer of Peoria, Ill.

Todd Bishop of Harrisburg, Ill., won the semi-feature over Cliff Cochrum of Benton, Ill., Dave DeFraties of Springfield, Mo., and Bob Dunn of Springfield.

A total of 27 winged sprint cars were on hand.

In the street stock division Tom Stone of O'Fallon, Mo., took a clean sweep by winning two heats and the 20-lap feature.

In the 20-lap feature, Stone took the lead from his first row starting position but on lap 13 Joe Medlock and Stone with Stone taking the win at the checkered flag.

Following Stone at the finish were Joe Medlock, Jim Pagel of Afton, Mo., John Medlock of Kirkwood, Mo., Duane Whitman of St. Louis and Pete Coon of Hazelwood, Mo.

Tom Stone won the first heat over Dave Nowak of St. Louis, Jim Pagel and "Beetle" Bailey of Kirkwood, Mo. Stone again came from the rear of the pack and won the second heat over Joe Medlock, Jim Pagel and "Beetle" Bailey. A total of 15 cars were on hand.

GRANITE CITY —

McDonald's manager Ray Harris was worried about his team going into Sunday's Inter-City League doubleheader here with the Collinsville Chiefs. But after his team's twirl sweep, he didn't have a worry in the world.

McDonald's made a shambles of the Chiefs, winning easily 15-7 and 11-5.

The two victories gave McDonald's a 4-1 record in Inter-City play. Corral Liqueur, at 4-0, had a bye Sunday.

John Pritchard and Terry Page, combined to lead McDonald's. It was Pritchard at the plate and Page on the mound.

"If we can get our pitching down, we'll be a threat," said Harris. "We're just finding out who can and can't pitch."

Page turned in a strong pitching performance for Harris to look over. He took to the mound in the second game and other than a two-run, two-hit first inning, mowed Collinsville down, giving up just four hits. His infield fluttered a bit with three errors, but Page didn't have much trouble working his way out of the jams.

In the sixth inning of game two, Collinsville had a leadoff triple. Page walked two men and committed an error. However, Page played the silence role, striking out the side as the Chiefs left two runners on. The game was tied 2-2. While

Page was keeping Collinsville quiet on the mound, Pritchard went to work at the plate.

McDonald's didn't score until the third inning in the opener and it didn't break open the nightcap until the fifth. It was then that Pritchard went to work. After two Collinsville errors allowed one run to come home, Pritchard ripped a single that scored Dan Schaus and Jeff Parker.

The Pritchard lightning struck again in the very next inning. Walks to Mark DeGonia, Schaus and Parker, and a single by Bob Stegmeyer gave McDonald's another run. Then Pritchard stroled to the plate. He blasted a double to left that drove in three runs. Pritchard later scored when Bob Ford's shot to leftfield was dropped.

"We always come from behind," said Harris. "We're hitting the ball better than last year. Pritchard has made a big difference. Nobody wanted to bat fourth and he stepped right in there and is really stinging the ball. In fact, our third, fourth and fifth batters are all hitting the ball. As is everyone else on the team."

GAME ONE

The number three and five hitters showed their stuff in the opening contest as did number two Schaus. When McDonald's finally unloaded in the third inning with four runs, Parker, bailing third, was in the thick of it. He unleashed a solid triple and scored on the same play via a Collinsville error. It also drove in a run.

Flanked behind Pritchard in the order is Ford. At the fifth spot, he cranked a two-run homer in the sixth inning when McDonald's scored six more times. In the same inning, Schaus delivered a bases clearing double for three RBI.

McDonald's was trailing going into the fifth inning, 7-

5. But three runs in the fifth and six in the sixth settled the issue. McDonald's didn't do a bad job, either, putting to use 12 walks that were given to them.

"We're hitting with men on base," said Harris. "Last year we had to play for one run in an inning. This year we can play for the big inning."

"At the end of the season, we'll either be knocking at the door hard or we'll knock it down," said assistant coach Bill Schable.

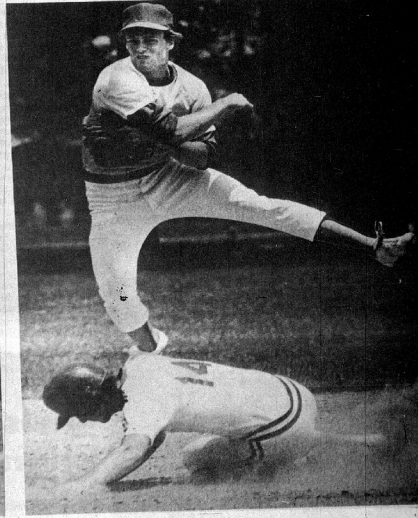

Kevin Crippa picked up the win as he hurled the final two frames. "I'm trying to take a look at all of them (pitchers)," said Warfield. "Some pitchers are only throwing two innings. They can't even get into a groove in that little time. But I'm getting a good idea of what the team can do."

Something that has been giving Warfield fits, though, has been the hitting corps.

Tri-City splits with Paducah

By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press Record

GRANITE CITY — It isn't like Eldon Warfield to give up on a game. He's usually a fighter to the end. But after he saw his team lose a 4-0 lead and then trail going into the seventh inning here Saturday, he was about to hang it up.

However, Warfield, Tri-City American Legion Post 113's head baseball coach, still has some things to learn about his Triplets. They don't give up. It was evident when they scored twice with two outs in the bottom of the seventh to pull out an 8-7 win over Post 12 from Paducah, Kentucky.

Hitting has been a key factor concerning Warfield in the early season. It's something Tri-City has been doing little of. That lack of offense resulted in Tri-City dropping a 7-3 count, its first of the summer, in the second contest of its doubleheader, with Paducah.

If the Triplets continue to play ball like they did in the the kill. The instinct almost didn't seem like it was there, though, as the next two Triplets were retired.

However, the entire inning was a perfect example of heads up baseball. The next play proved so. Rich Cope hit a roller to second. Had Cope not been running hard to first the fielder could have easily thrown him out to end the game. But Cope was blazing down the line and the fielder was forced into throwing the ball away for an error.

Buer touched home and before Paducah knew what was going on, DePew raced for the plate from second and scored the winning run. "It was heads up baseball," said Warfield. "Buer dropped the bunt on his own. DePew came home on his own and Cope made the fielder play the ball. We kept hustling. It's nice to win that way. But I could do without those."

Looking to move the tying run over, Darren DePew also dropped a bunt as a sacrifice. But Paducah decided to try and nail Buer a second. The attempt failed.

Pulling off a gutsy double steal, Tri-City was ready for the air. His effort was the climax of a fine game performance. He had already collected two RBI when he doubled in the second.

Again Warfield took a good look at his pitching staff. He went through four pitchers with Rich Takmajian starting on the hill. He had to be relieved in the third when Paducah exploded for five runs. Paul Eads came in and was rudely greeted as his very first pitch was smacked over the left field fence. Rick Daily hurled two innings in which he struck out the side in the fourth.

Kevin Crippa picked up the win as he hurled the final two frames. "I'm trying to take a look at all of them (pitchers)," said Warfield. "Some pitchers are only throwing two innings. They can't even get into a groove in that little time. But I'm getting a good idea of what the team can do."

Something that has been giving Warfield fits, though, has been the hitting corps.

Athletes' graduation rates above normal

Special to the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN -- Results of the NCAA-sponsored study, probably the most comprehensive of its kind, indicate that male student-athletes at member institutions graduate at a better rate than nonathletes. The five-year study, conducted for the NCAA by the American College Testing Program (ACT), measured the performance of male students who entered college in the fall of 1975. The study found that 41.5 percent of the male athletes in the group had graduated by the spring of 1980, while the nonathlete graduation rate was 41.5 percent. The total sample showed a graduation rate of 42.4 percent, which compared favorably to earlier studies.

The study grew out of a 1975 project undertaken by ACT for the NCAA that measured graduation rates of male undergraduates, both athletes who won varsity letters and nonathletes. As a result of the low rate of usable responses, the conclusions from that 1975 study were termed "tentative" by ACT; nonetheless, those earlier results also suggested that student-athletes graduated at the same or a higher rate than entering male freshman nonathletes.

Following completion of the 1975 project, ACT recommended that a more controlled analysis be undertaken. Because many colleges were not equipped to monitor enrollment status of their students, the NCAA contracted with ACT to perform this function for a selected sample of institutions. Usable data were received from 46 NCAA member institutions, primarily in Division I, with enrollment records being maintained for 36,365 men. The overall graduation rate of those 36,365 students was 42.4 percent, a finding similar to earlier research of this project. In addition, 14.4 percent of the students still were taking class work in the spring of 1980.

Included in the 36,365 were records from 4,065 student-athletes. During the five-year period studied, 52 percent of those athletes graduated and another 12.9 percent still were enrolled. Among the 32,300 nonathletes, 41.5 percent graduated, 14.5 still were enrolled and 44 percent had dropped or transferred.

Thus, only 35.1 percent of the male student-athletes had dropped or transferred, compared with 44 percent of the nonathletes. Overall, 43.2 percent of those examined had dropped or transferred. The ACT report also measured graduation rates among various sports at each institution, with six categories being used: football, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track and "all other sports."

The graduation rate was better than 41 percent in all sports measured; all sports recorded higher graduation rates than the 41.5 percent nonathlete rate for the entire sample.

In the state tournament youths play 36 holes to determine the three lowest trophy-winning scores. The number of players who advance to the national IYC, which will be held at the Augusta Country Club and the Forest Hills Golf Course, both in Augusta, Ga., Aug. 7-11 is based on a per-state allotment determined by the national IYC committee at a later date.

Approximately 150 of the best junior golfers from across the U.S. will play in the 72-hole national tournament. During the first 36 holes they compete to survive the cut to 66 finalists. Last year over 700 youths participated in the Illinois IYC.

Memphis is given new franchise

PHILADELPHIA — After the city of Memphis showed an overwhelming interest in hosting a professional indoor soccer team, the Major Indoor Soccer League approved and announced the sale of the Hartford franchise to a group of businessmen who will relocate the franchise to Memphis. The decision was made at the annual MISL Board of Directors meeting last week here.

Memphis has a different type of professional sports story, a tale where the fans banded together to present their case and changed a decision. Citing the small capacity of Mid-South Coliseum (9,500 seats), the MISL denied an application request from businessman Ray Kuns to bring an expansion team into Memphis, a city his surveys said would support indoor soccer.

That denial was forwarded, April 23, but MISL Commissioner Earl Foreman continued to listen to Kuns while hundreds of letters and phone calls from the loyal supporters of soccer in the south started pouring in.

On May 6, the commissioner spoke to the civic and business leaders of Memphis and all the "angry" fans via a very interested media. Commissioner Foreman made a sincere promise that the city of Memphis would have an indoor soccer team provided the purchase of 6,500 season tickets was pledged, for two seasons. Coupled with that request, and its successful completion, Foreman received a promise from the city of fathers that the arena would be enlarged.

Two days later, on May 8, a group of volunteers calling themselves "Soccer for Memphis," started their campaign. Telephone calls, stickers, billboards, placards and media attention brought the subject of professional indoor soccer to the minds in Memphis.

Eleven working days later success in the form of a rocket red MISL soccer ball rolled into Memphis.

Deposits for approximately 4,500 tickets had been received and a small group of local businessmen underwrote the remaining 2,000. Soccer in Memphis had scored its first goal. The MISL is a reality in Memphis.

"The entire MISL is extremely pleased to make this announcement," Foreman said the day he received the news. "The circumstances under which this group and this city gained admittance into the MISL are unique, maybe in all of sports. The season ticket campaign was absolutely extraordinary. It most certainly evidenced the desire of a group of sports fans to acquire something they desired."

Greg Hicks, the general manager for the yet-to-be-named Memphis team, oversaw the campaign. "What amazed me about all these people in Memphis was the overwhelming amount of donated time and effort we received from people just because they want indoor soccer," explained Hicks.

Memphis is one of thirteen franchises in the three-year old MISL.

City Temple 2nd

FAIRVIEW HEIGHTS — City Temple Outpost 94 Royal Rangers competed in the Track and Field events of the Metro South Royal Ranger Olympics, held recently at Long Acre Park in Fairview Heights.

City Temple collected 59 points in the day's events to take second place, even though they only had three boys participating. Jeff Wiles took three first places; standing long jump, obstacle course, and the dash, thus earning 30 points. Trevis Mahoney took second in the tumbling and third in the obstacle course for 13 points. He narrowly missed placing in the long jump by one inch. Scott Mahoney earned 16 points by taking second in the javelin throw, third in tumbling and fourth in the dash.

Each boy participated in four of six events. The other event was the relay race. City Temple did not have enough for a team. Boys 7 years old through leaders competed against each other with the younger boys under handicaps. There were about 30 contestants from four churches.

Troy Christian Fellowship placed first in the event with 73 points. Fairview Heights placed third with 21 points. Maryville took fourth.

City Temple moved into first place in the overall standings with 31 points after four complete events. Tied for second in the overall standings are Fairview Heights and Maryville Assembly of God Churches with 26 points each. Troy Christian Fellowship is in fourth place with 10 points they earned in this event, the only one they have competed in so far. Of Fallon is fifth with five points and Washington Park is sixth with three points.

Split

Even though Tri-City scored eight times in the first game, it only batted out eight hits. It was limited to five in the nightcap.

The most productive inning was the first. Kevin Sykes reached base by a single and after moving to second on a ground out scored when Bob Ford drilled a base hit.

The Triplets scored one more in the third and fourth, but from then on Paducah's starting pitcher owned the Tri-City offense. He finished a strong five-hit performance by setting down 10 of the last 12 batters he faced.

"Their (Paducah) a nice team," said Warfield. "But we've got to start hitting the ball. We've haven't hit with authority like I know we can. The little bit of a lay-off we had had something to do with it. Our victory was cheap, but you take them as you can get them."

Tri-City will look to improve on its 2-1 record when it begins league play against Fairview Heights at home today. Game time is set for 6 p.m.

TOP TEAM. Pictured above is the Women's Pool League team sponsored by Keith's Lounge which recently won the team championship of the Granite City-Madison Women's League. The team held first place 23 out of the 25 weeks of the season. In the final game, Keith's Pat Johnson scored the win by hitting the 8-ball in on the Weldon. Back row (l-r): Pat Gerlach (captain), Janie Weldon, Pat Johnson, Josephine Smith, Tina Curtis. Below: Hattie Lance, Gail Holder.

300 at Church Women United state assembly

More than 300 women attending the 1981 state assembly of Church Women United of Illinois heard an address by Dr. Thelma Davidson Adair, national president of Church Women United in the United States.

Ten local women were among those participating in the three-day series of meetings and workshops at the First Christian Church at Centralia.

Dr. Adair is a professor of education at Queen's College in New York.

Mrs. Ronne Stankus of Lombard, Illinois, was president, presided at the business sessions.

The "Bible Study" segment of the assembly was conducted by Mrs. Linda L. Eller, an ordained elder in the Northern Illinois Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Currently, Mrs. Eller is serving the third year of a two-point charge at Lindenhurst—Ingleside, Ill., it was noted.

A wide variety of workshops was offered during the assembly.

The Rev. Charlotte Zachary, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Madison and a member of the local CWU, served as a resource leader for the Hospice workshop.

Other local women active in the assembly proceedings, included Mrs. Joyce Schrader, who served as a state assembly chairman and Mrs. Marie Gordon, who was elected to a three-year term as chairman of the Spiritual—Personal Development Committee.

Also attending from here were Mrs. Dolores Allen, local unit president, Mrs. Dolores Vogeler, vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Rivenburgh, Mrs. Louise Anderson, Mrs. Nona Corzilius, Mrs. Ola Jones and Mrs. Shirley Guest.

Among the highlights of the assembly was a procession of all 41 unit presidents, women who have received Valiant Woman awards, the Mother of the Year of Illinois and other honorees.

Each received a "CWU in the U.S.A. History Book," compiled in celebration of the CWU's 50th anniversary—1931-81.

A reception and birthday celebration also were held in the Fellowship Hall at the First Baptist Church of Centralia.

Entertainment was presented by the Centralia Choral Society.

Workshops focused on such topics as:

Creative Celebrations, Domestic Violence, Hospice, Liturgical Dance, Parenting for Peace and Justice, Prison Ministries and the Volunteer, Women Doing Theology, The Year of the Disabled and Church Women United.

The assembly concluded with the group marching, singing and carrying balloons to the Centralia Park, where the balloons were released and a "breaking of the bread" worship was held.

The 1982 Illinois assembly will take place in Naperville.

STOLEN BOAT FOUND

A trailer with a 16-foot aluminum boat, valued at an aggregate of $1,000 and stolen June 2 from the yard of Carl Barton, 2538 Denver St., was located Thursday evening on the lawn of a St. Louis home. The residents there had just returned from an out-of-town visit. Finding the boat and trailer, they relayed the trailer license number to police, who notified Barton.

$1,000 stolen; three are held

Madison police were holding three young men during the weekend in connection with the theft of $1,000 cash from Tom Bauer, 3704 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, in Madison at 2:55 p.m. Thursday.

Bauer said he was in his car with other young men in Grenzer Homes and was showing them $1,000 he had when one youth reached into the car, grabbed the money and ran away. He was arrested at his Grenzer Homes apartment a short time later, as was his grandmother, who allegedly became abusive to police at the Madison Police Station and refused to be quiet. She was charged with disorderly conduct and was released on a notice to appear in court.

Before she left the building, she surrendered $520 from her purse which she said was among the stolen money.

Later, police took two other youths into custody. One allegedly threw a beer can and something else into a trash can before getting into a police car. An officer checked the trash can and found a $100 bill and five $20 bills, also believed to have been stolen from Bauer.

The three were held pending further investigation.

PISTOL IS TAKEN

A .380 automatic magnum pistol and $65 cash were stolen from the home of Neal Truett, 541 Mercedia Ave., Venice, it was discovered at 10:05 a.m. Friday. A padlock which had been locked was found unlocked.

Mrs. Mark Greenwald

Greenwald-Lombardi

Miss Christy Marie Lombardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Lombardi, 1610 Lindell Blvd., became the bride of Mark Greenwald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greenwald, 777 Grand Ave., in an evening candlelight ceremony on April 25 at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

The Rev. Seamus Shortall performed the double ring service at 7 p.m. before an altar adorned with bouquets of fresh white mums and pom poms intermingled with greenery. White tapers festooned with sprigs of greenery illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

Nuptial selections were performed by Margaret Crenshaw at the organ who played The Wedding Song, and guitarist Larry Heagy and vocalist Tommy Crawford.

Wedding music included, "If," "Linger," "My Sweet Lady," "I Love You Just The Way You Are," "Colour My World," and "Evergreen."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a full length white chiffon over taffeta A-line designed gown. Venise lace motifs accented the sheer yoke and high neckline and was repeated on the fitted bodice and cuffs of the full bishop sleeves.

Her slightly full skirt and chapel train were bordered with tiny Venise lace flowers. She wore a camel headpiece enhanced with seed pearls and lace to secure a fingerling veil of bridal illusion also edged with Venise lace appliques. She held a bouquet of silk white roses with touches of stephanotis and fresh baby's breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Dennis Solberg served with bridesmaids, Kathy Cross, Patty Bade, Becki Price, a cousin of the bride, Nancy Asadorian, Mary Elkie and Vanessa Chomko, another cousin of the bride. They were gownned in identical apricot chiffon dresses fashioned with criss cross bodices with spaghetti straps and pleated skirts complemented with matching jackets accented with Venise lace.

Each attendant carried a round bouquet of silk yellow tiger lilies, peach color rose buds, daisies and baby's breath tied with yellow streamers.

Kathy Engkele was the flower girl. She wore a long white organza frock created with a full tier skirt trimmed with a large white bow at the waistline. She carried a white wicker basket filled with peach and yellow flowers.

Dennis Solberg attended the groom as best man. Dave Ruebhausen, Bob Hutchings, Brady Fischer, Jim and Frank Greenwald, brothers of the groom and Carl Chomko, the bride's cousin, were groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Mark Petrovich and Joey Parente, a cousin of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lombardi selected a pale blue polyester floor length gown and she carried a corsage of blue silk roses on her purse.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Greenwald was attired in a pastel green formal polyester dress and her purse corsage was composed of matching blossoms.

Escorting the guests to the guest book at a reception held at Croatian Home in Madison. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Supper Club of the Granite City Army Installation.

The newlywed couple is residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla.

Both are graduates of South High School. The bride is employed at First National Bank in St. Louis and the groom works as a pipefitter at Monsanto Research Center, Creve Coeur, Mo.

Mrs. Ivan Graklanoff and Mrs. Emma Jakich presented the major lesson on "A Matter of Time" at the monthly meeting of Trio Unit, Homemakers Extension Association, held at Hope Lutheran Church.

The speakers said, "The purpose of the lesson was to enlighten the group on how to identify a personal pattern of time use as a first step to better time management. Also to illustrate importance of time planning skills as the key to goal achievement and personal satisfaction."

Helen Towse, cultural arts chairman, will take the following craft suggestions to the Home Extension office to be used on craft days: dough, silk flowers, plaster spoon and webbing tote bag, it was announced.

Each officer was given a scroll which listed the duties of the office.

The group plans to go on a field trip to Shaw's Garden in St. Louis, on Thursday, June 11, and will meet at 9:30 a.m. at Hope Lutheran Church and leave from there, the chairman noted.

Naomi Chapman, recreation chairman, led the game session and presented prizes to Lucille Sackett, Arlene Brinkmeyer and Alice Pfroender.

The next meeting will be held at noon on July 7 at the church. The lesson on Basic Legal Information for the Family will be given by Louise Anderson and Marguerite O'Neill.

Baptist class attends show

The Mary Martha Class of Third Baptist Church attended a dinner at Buckley's Restaurant at the Ramada Inn in Fairview Heights, last week.

Following the dinner the group attended a matinee of Fiddler on the Roof.

Those attending were Ann Fossick, Laura Grote, Ruth Hopkins, Florence Simpson, Nancy Turner, Juanita Veizer, Ann Williams, Mary Wilson and Laura Maples.

SAFETY ACHIEVEMENT AWARD is presented by Granite City Steel President James V. Stack, center, to Cold Rolled Finishing department head Bruce Miller. At left is GC Steel Safety director Ron Haggerty. The plaque recognizes the department for having logged more than 200,000 manhours without a disabling injury. A new program will be announced shortly on rewarding employees of departments reaching that milestone.

GC Steel recognizes safety in cold-roll

A special safety achievement award has been presented to the employees of Granite City Steel's Cold Rolled Finishing department for working more than 200,000 consecutive manhours without a lost workday injury. Department head Bruce Miller accepted the award on behalf of the 85 employees, who achieved the safety milestone.

In making the presentation, GC Steel President James V. Stack said, "It is a pleasure to recognize this accomplishment. We are finding that more and more of our employees are conscious of the need to keep safety uppermost in their minds on the job."

"Certainly in Cold Rolled Finishing, where a lot of handling of sharp-edged steelsheets and coils is required, this is especially important. The fact that this department could work without a disabling injury since December, 1979, is a tribute to all concerned," he said.

GCS safety director Ronald L. Haggerty added, "We are starting a new program — soon to be announced — for rewarding departments which reach 200,000 manhours without a lost-workday injury. This is the equivalent — under the old pre-OSHA rules — of going one million manhours without a lost-time accident. Bruce Miller's people are certainly to be congratulated."

Cold Rolled Finishing's major operations include tempering of steel coils, leveling, shearing and shipping.

SERVICE AWARDS at the Granite City (Trust) Bank include, from left: Barry Loman, 40 years; Helen Dooley, 10 years; Robert Dietrich, 15 years; Henry D. Karandjeff, 70 years, and Drew Karandjeff, president.

Bank employees honored

The Twentieth Annual Employee Award Dinner was held at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank Tuesday, June 2, at 6 p.m.

Dinner was served to 153 employees, board of directors and families.

Toastmaster of the evening was Drew Karandjeff, president.

He presented a five year award to Rita Kennedy, 10 year award to Helen Dooley, 15 year award to Robert Dietrich and a 40 year award to Barry Loman. Highlight of the evening was a 70 year award to Henry D. Karandjeff, honorary chairman.

After the awards, ventriloquist Mark Coleman of St. Louis gave a one hour performance with his assistant, Hank E. Panky. The evening was closed by remarks from Drew Karandjeff, president.

Taxi driver robbed of $46

A taxicab driver, Fred Werner of the 1700 block of Edison Avenue, was robbed of $46 at 3:25 a.m. Friday by a passenger who grabbed the money from his shirt pocket and then fought him.

The man, who entered the taxi from an apartment at Kirkpatrick Homes, asked to be taken to North Granite City. He was about 5-7 tall, in his early 20s, with dark, shoulder-length hair. He was wearing cut-off blue jeans and no shirt or shoes.

The passenger took the money while the cab was crossing railroad tracks on 25th Street near Nameoki Drive.

Werner hit the man on the left hand, and the robber struck the cab driver in the face with a fist before jumping out of the vehicle and escaping on foot.

3-day downtown festival to open Wednesday in park

The downtown area will be filled with music and the smell of food being cooked outdoors over charcoal this week as the Mayor's Junefest opens in Civic Park, 20th Street and Niedringhaus Ave., for a three-day run, beginning Wednesday. This is the second annual event sponsored by Mayor Paul Schuler in the park. He said the success of last year's festival encouraged him to make the event a regular one.

"Stan Fornaszewski's Musical Delights" band will play from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday while participants enjoy ham, ham and cheese or roast beef sandwiches and refreshments sold along Delmar Avenue and 20th Street.

Friday, "Howard Bolten & Stagecoach" will entertain during the lunch hours. Friday evening shoppers are being invited to stop in the park between 7 and 9 p.m. to hear the music of "The Liechtenstein German Band" while enjoying the food offerings.

"We had a great turnout last year and are planning for an even bigger turnout this year. I hope everyone will come to the park for some great food and a good listening time," Mayor Schuler said.

BROWNIE TROOP 509. Members of the troop, sponsored by Wilson School PTA, toured Irwin Chapel for Funerals where they viewed a film on understanding death. They also received a booklet and gifts. Shown on the antique horse drawn hearse are Dawn Hartzell, Brandi Myers, and Lisa Sharp. Others attending were April Forsy, Michele Ferguson, Stacy Pyles, Dawn Thurnbow, Ginny Bobenstab, Heather Hayes, Tracy Riggs and Robin DeShazer. Accompanying the scouts were Mrs. Pam Myers, leader, and Mrs. Sue Riggs, co-leader.

Doctor degree and attainment award to Margaret Cheadle

Margaret J. Cheadle, 4 Moorland Drive, Mitchell has received a scholarship achievement citation from the American Medical Women's Association. She received a doctor of medicine degree from Washington University May 22.

Washington University is one of America's leading private teaching and research institutions. The more than 8,000 graduate and undergraduate students represent all 50 states and 77 foreign countries. There are 1,300 full-time faculty in nine schools — including medicine, engineering, business, law, architecture, fine arts, social work, dentistry, and continuing education — as well as the College of Arts and Sciences.

PROBATION ON THEFT Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick has sentenced Johnny McNuckles, 20, East St. Louis, to one and a half years of probation for an April 27, 1978, felony theft. The case was originated by police in Granite City and Venice.

Thunderbirds to perform at Scott AFB Saturday

The Thunderbirds, the precision aerial demonstration team of the U.S. Air Force, will again be featured at the annual Scott Air Force Base open house and air show on Saturday, June 13. The base will open at 9:30 a.m. for the show which also features a display of numerous aircraft for public inspection including a C-5 Galaxy, the world's largest airplane, the bal-like British Vulcan bomber, and a C-9A Nightingale exactly like one of the two "freedom planes" that flew the 52 American hostages from Algiers to Germany.

The Thunderbirds will perform their breathtaking loops, rolls and dives beginning at 2:35 p.m. preceded by a demonstration by the Scott AFB security policemen rappelling from helicopters at 12:15, two military working dog demonstrations, and an F-4 Phantom jet fly-by.

The Air Force Honor Guard marching team will also perform in addition to the Air Force Band of Mid-America playing top-40 hits and the Belleville Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps.

As in previous years, admission to the open house is free and food and drinks will be available.

Visitors may take I-64 past O'Fallon to the Scott Air Force Base exit. Ample parking is available.

Arrest at scene of house burglary

Granite City police were holding an 18-year-old Kirkpatrick Homes resident in custody today pending the application for a burglary warrant from the Madison County state's attorney's office.

The youth was allegedly found inside the home of Ray Gean, 2819 E. 25th St., at 1:43 a.m. Saturday and was arrested as he left the house.

Gean's daughter and another girl said they were returning to the house late and expected the back door to be left unlocked for them. They found the door locked and peered inside to see a teenager searching through a wallet in the kitchen.

The girls went next door and called police, who surrounded the house. When one officer knocked on the front door, the young man came out the back door, where he was taken into custody. He allegedly had a glove and a wrench in his pockets.

A glove matching the one in his pocket was found on the kitchen table. Officers searched the house, but found no one else inside. Drawers in the kitchen and bedrooms had been ransacked, police said.

The young man was jailed, pending discussions today with the state's attorney's office.

B. J. Davis, who presented the awards; Michael Millard, also honored, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Millard. The award was founded by Grigsby, a former Granite City schools superintendent. The recipients are chosen by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, attitude and general citizenship.

Historical group plans plaques for old houses

The first project for the Old Six Mile Historical Society will be to place plaques on homes in this area which have historical significance, members declared at a meeting last week in the Nameoki Township Hall.

The decision was made during the new group's second public meeting. Methods of financing the plaques and determining which homes qualify for historical designation are to be discussed in future meetings.

The history of Chouteau Township and Chouteau Island was the main topic at the meeting. Mrs. Patricia Polley, Chouteau town clerk and co-author of articles on the township's history, gave a talk and showed old record books and photographs.

Ferdinand Segar then gave a talk on his ancestors, the Atkins family, and the early settlement and floods of the Chouteau Island area. Poag Smith also talked and discussed the Poag area of Chouteau Township and Indian artifacts found in the mounds near Roxana.

Betty Lavelle and Marguerite Lewak also displayed early photographs.

Leona Wilkinson, the owner of the historic Six Mile House on Route 162 east of State A-35, was introduced at the meeting.

Minutes were read by Darlene Kahn, secretary, and the proposed by-laws were read by Ronald Coleman, president, before they were adopted.

Plans to arrange an historical museum for the Quad-City area also were discussed.

The group agreed to hold its next meeting Monday, Sept. 14, but will be seeking memberships during the summer. All members joining in the first year will be listed as charter members of the group.

Emergency preparedness Scout camp-o-ree theme

Troop 7 Boy Scouts, St. Joseph's Church, attended a spring camporee at Dr. Edmund A. Babler Memorial State Park, located in Chesterfield, Mo. This Spring Camporee, under the direction of Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak Jr., included 12 camporee events, all enhancing the camporee's theme: Emergency Preparedness.

Events were: an emergency preparedness quiz; demonstrations in what to do in such emergencies as: lightning storms, fires in tall buildings, head-on collisions, swimming rescues, analysis and treatment of injuries, treatment of fractures, treatment to self of injuries, if alone, and different types of carries available to an injured person, knots and how they can be helpful in treatment of an injured person and preparing a fire in wet conditions.

Leadership Corps members acted as judges for camporee events, declaring Cobra Patrol, first place winners, with Flaming Arrow Patrol, placing second and Panther Patrol, placing third.

Patrol activities included demonstrations of emergency signs, such as ground to air emergency signals using sticks and the body.

Enroute home, Troop 7 stopped at Holy Family Seminary in Overland, Mo., for Mass, thus remaining faithful to the 12th point of the Scout Law: A Scout is Reverent.

A special Mass was celebrated for the Scouts by Father Gary Perret, M.S.P., vocation director for the Missionaries of the Holy Family and former associate pastor of St. Joseph's Church, the Troop's sponsor. Senior Patrol Leader, Steve Kusmierczak served as Lector at Mass. Scouts Frank Scaturro and Joey Kusmierczak were Mass Servers.

Spring camporee was the first camping adventure for Scouts Eric Markovich, Donald Gray, Tim Szymek and Patrick Boyer, who joined Troop 7 just two days before this camping adventure when they crossed the bridge separating Cub Scouting and the "Wonderful World of Scouting" and began their journey on the road to the Eagle.

Double or nothing?

Saving money these days is difficult for most everyone. But there is a plan guaranteed to build your savings. Even for those who can't seem to ever save a cent. Buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

The amount you'd like to save is taken out automatically. When you accumulate the purchase price, you get a Bond. A $50 Bond costs only $25. Or a $100 Bond costs only $50. Whatever the amount, you'll double your money if you hold the Bond to maturity.

Remember, you can double your money for sure or put off saving and do nothing. Double or nothing.

Take stock
in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.
